Retreat to a natural place:

Dorje Ling Buddhist Retreat Centre, nestled amid acres of tall eucalypt forest, on the edge of Lake Cethana in remote north-west Tasmania, is home to myriad birds and abundant native wildlife. The centre's qualities of tranquility and spaciousness support healing and deep contemplative inquiry inspired by the surrounding beauty. A unique sanctuary, it is available to individuals and groups who wish to deepen their practice of contemplation and meditation, or have opportunity to reconnect with the natural world.

Places which support the unfolding of wisdom and compassion are rare.

Dorje Ling, a unique retreat and teaching facility located amidst tall wet eucalypt forests bordering the beautiful Lake Cethana in remote North Western Tasmania, is such a place.

wisdom compassion tranquility

As Australia's second longest running Buddhist retreat centre, Dorje Ling has been host to regular retreats since 1977. The many years of meditative inquiry undertaken here can be felt in the spacious and peaceful quality of the land.

The natural surroundings and abundant wildlife support deep inquiry, healing and growth. Many visitors to Dorje Ling comment upon the sense of vitality and peace they experience here.

Tashi Choling Dharma Foundation

Dorje Ling Retreat Centre is owned and managed by Tashi Choling Dharma Foundation, a not for profit incorporated association under the guidance of spiritual director, the Venerable Zasep Tulku Rinpoche.

Spiritual director

The Venerable Zasep Tulku Rinpoche is a highly respected meditation master of the Gelugpa Tradition of Tibetan Buddhism. Rinpoche, who is well known for his gentle wisdom, compassion and humour, first came to Australia in 1977, and has been visiting regularly ever since. As Spiritual Director, Rinpoche contributes his wisdom and guidance to the running of Centre.

Facilities

Dorje Ling is available for both group and private bookings, with facilities to cater for large numbers. Facilities include a well equipped commercial kitchen, indoor and outdoor dining areas, cosy lounge area, meditation and teaching hall, shower block, and a range of accommodation options to suit a variety of needs. A number of walking tracks through the surrounding forest provide ample opportunity for quiet reflection, observation and solitude, and access to the lake provides a wonderful swimming spot in the warmer months. Dorje Ling offers an ideal place for group and solo meditation retreats, as well as workshops and courses supporting healing, awareness, personal development and environmental education.
